INFORMATION LETTER
INTERNATIONAL PUBLIC-POLITICAL HEARINGS ON FORMATION OF A UNITED AND EQUAL SYSTEM OF SECURITY AND COOPERATION ON THE EURASIAN CONTINENT

May 28th-30th, 2025, Perm, Russian Federation

On June 14th, 2024, Russian President Vladimir Putin, speaking at the Russian Foreign Ministry, put forward the initiative to form an architecture of common Eurasian security and cooperation. The system in question is open to all countries of the largest continent in the world – home to almost 5.3 billion people and half of the UN member states with the area of over 50 million km^2. At the same time, he proposed to use the existing potential of such intra-continental organizations as the CSTO, CIS, SCO, ASEAN, the Conference on Interaction and Confidence-Building Measures in Asia, and the Cooperation Council for the Arab States of the Persian Gulf. The Russian head of state also called for a broad discussion of this issue.

In accordance with the above, the Russian parliamentary “Eurasian Dialogue” platform (founded in 2012, Chairman – Konstantin Kosachev, Coordinator – Andrey Klimov) has initiated holding open international socio-political hearings on this topic in Perm – the geographical border of Europe and Asia, focusing on such thematic blocks as:

1. Political and legal aspects of Eurasian security;
2. Financial, economic and trade aspects of cooperation in Greater Eurasia;
3. Intra-Eurasian humanitarian cooperation.

This initiative was supported by the United Russia Party, Russian senators, deputies of the State Duma of the Russian Federation, the Russian Ministry of Foreign Affairs, the International Commission under the General Council of the All-Russian political party "United Russia" (Chairman – Sergey Lavrov), a number of authoritative Russian non-governmental organizations, the administration of the Governor of the Perm Krai, as well as many of our partners in inter-parliamentary, inter-party dialogue and foreign public organizations from both Asia and Europe.

The large Russian city of Perm has many years of experience in hosting significant international events, including forums on international, intercivilizational, and Eurasian dialogue.

The hearings are planned to be held from 28 to 30 May. Based on their results, joint documents may be adopted. The expected number of participants is over 300 people, including over 100 foreign guests from fifty countries in Asia and Europe. Categories of participants: parliamentarians, members of the leadership of parliamentary parties in Asia and Europe, diplomats, public figures, representatives of business and scientific circles, journalists. The main working languages are Russian and English. The deadline for preliminary applications is April 24th, 2025.