Statement of the ICAPP Standing Committee on the Floods in Sumatra, Republic of Indonesia (December 16, 2025)

On behalf of the Standing Committee Members of the International Conference of Asian Political Parties (ICAPP), we extend our deepest condolences to the people and government of the Republic of Indonesia following the devastating floods that have recently struck the northern and central regions of the island of Sumatra.

We were profoundly saddened with the tragic loss of over a thousand lives. We convey our heartfelt sympathy and solidarity to the bereaved families and to the people of Indonesia.

We commend the swift response of the Indonesian authorities, emergency services, and local communities in carrying out rescue and relief operations under challenging conditions.

We also call upon governments, political parties, and international partners across Asia to extend support and cooperation in humanitarian relief, rehabilitation, and reconstruction efforts.
