International Conference of Asian Political Parties (ICAPP)
Seoul, Republic of Korea

Dear Chairman Chung,
Dear Distinguished Members of the ICAPP Standing Committee,

With deep sorrow, I write to formally inform you of the passing today, February 10, 2026, of my beloved husband, Jose de Venecia, former five-time Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Philippines and Founder and Chairman Emeritus of the International Conference of Asian Political Parties (ICAPP). He was 89 years old.

My husband Joe devoted his life to public service, dialogue, and peace-building — values that found enduring expression in ICAPP, which he founded with the conviction that Asian political parties could rise above differences and work together for peace, cooperation, and shared prosperity. ICAPP was among his proudest legacies, and he remained deeply grateful for the friendship, solidarity, and collective vision of its leaders and members across Asia.

On behalf of our family, I extend our heartfelt gratitude to the ICAPP community for the years of partnership, trust, and camaraderie you shared with my beloved husband. We take comfort in knowing that his ideals live on through ICAPP's continuing work and through the bonds of friendship he forged with all of you.
